

THEODORE ALEXANDER

LEATHERS

Leather is a hard-wearing and versatile material that acquires an individual and pleasing patina over time. Leather shows naturally occurring marks such as wrinkles, scars, scratches and bites - this is to be expected in top grain hides. In fact, these authentic characteristics differentiate real hide from synthetic or re-constituted coverings. All our leathers are hand-coloured and some variation is inherent in the artisan finish process.

Leather options vary by piece. Some leather options are manufactured to order. Please contact your Theodore Alexander representative or Dealer for details.
